Fish

WARNING!

Nearly all fish and seafood contain some amount of mercury and related compounds, chemicals known to the State of California to cause cancer, and birth defects or other reproductive harm. Certain fish contain higher levels than others.

Pregnant and nursing women, women who may become pregnant, and young children should not eat the following fish:

SWORDFISH • SHARK • KING MACKEREL • TILEFISH

They should also limit their consumption of other fish, including tuna.

Fish and seafood can be an important source of nutrients and an important part of a balanced diet. However, the federal Food and Drug Administration advises pregnant and nursing women, women who may become pregnant, and children to limit their weekly consumption of fish.

Fish that tend to have little or no mercury include shrimp and scallops. Mercury levels in tuna vary. Tuna steaks and canned albacore tuna have higher levels of mercury than canned light tuna.

For more information about the risks of mercury in fish and about the levels in various types of fish consult the following websites:
U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") www.cfsan.fda.gov
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency www.epa.gov/ost/fish

The California Department of Health Services recommends that these individuals:

- Eat a variety of different types of fish;
- Eat smaller fish rather than older, larger fish;
- Begin following these guidelines one year before becoming pregnant.

or call the FDA toll-free at 1-888-SAFEFOOD 1-888-723-3366).
